To future friends, allies, and others whom it may concern - I have composed a brief list of what makes up the financial experiment of America 2, to get everyone up to speed.

- An understanding that what follows is solely to set the next generation of Americans up with the best hand possible.
- An understanding that America 2 wishes to be competitive with the Chinese financial system.
- The establishment of a founder's table in Minnesota, of initially strictly empathetic individuals who care deeply about the success of the next generation.
- The understanding that America 2 is a sovereign financial system, which does not pay taxes to the federal government of America 1.
- The creation of a novel monetary system, using $USD or some other fungible token.
- The establishment of Universal Basic Income (UBI), in which all citizens receive "free" money cyclically from the treasury.
- The cessation of all minting of new currency or tokens, except for into the hands of citizens via UBI.
- The establishment of a non-deductible tax on businesses.
- The cessation of all income taxation on citizens below a monthly threshold ($83.$\bar{3}$ million USD).
- The understanding that neural autonomy is a basic human right, and not inherent to the social contract.
- The construction of a financial simulation, designed to safely and efficiently coordinate the controlled demolition of the old financial system, which will not keep up.
- The understanding that financial systems and political systems are effectively identical terms.
- The establishment of a new federal government, with the intent to replace the old one gradually over time.
- The establishment of a system to allow citizens to control their own neural autonomy.
- A paradigm shift away from economies that ask you to hoard wealth.
- A paradigm shift into an economy in which we are incentivized into helping each other keep up.
- A paradigm shift into an economy that rewards delayed gratification, rather than debt.
- A paradigm shift back into data-driven government, which America 1 should pay for.

Sincerely,

Lily Erickson
